

Common Examples

of Wisconsin State Agencies that Regulate Training Programs

Please Note: Wisconsin's Educational Approval Program (EAP) is located within Wisconsin's Department of Safety and Professional Services and is created by Wisconsin state statute. The EAP regulates most private entities (including those based outside of Wisconsin) that offer occupational training and educational programs to Wisconsin residents. The table, below, shows some common examples of training program types and the Wisconsin state agencies that regulate them.

Training Program Type	WI State Agency
Aesthetics	Department of Safety and Professional Services
Asbestos and Lead Abatement	Department of Health Services
Barbering	Department of Safety and Professional Services
Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation (CPR)/Automated External Defibrillator (AED)	Department of Health Services
Certified Nurse Aides	Department of Health Services
Child Care	Department of Children and Families
Commercial Driving	Department of Transportation (Also regulated by the EAP)
Community Based Residential Facilities (CBRF)	Department of Health Services (Contracts with UW Green Bay)
Cosmetology	Department of Safety and Professional Services
Electrology	Department of Safety and Professional Services
Manicuring	Department of Safety and Professional Services
Medication Aide	Department of Health Services
Real Estate (Broker or Salesperson)	Department of Safety and Professional Services
Substance Abuse Counselor	Department of Safety and Professional Services